Strike Ballot Is Authorized by Non-operating Railroad Unions

(Chiefs See No Other Way To Secure Satisfactory Wage Increase; Returnable Nov. 25)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The fifteen non-operating railroad unions, with 1,097,000 members, today joined the five operating brotherhoods, with 350,000 members, in ordering a strike ballot as a result of dissatisfaction with government action on their wage demands.

Announcing the decision, chiefs of the non-operating unions said "we regret our inability to otherwise adjust the difficulty" and declared "we regard it as our duty to the employees involved, as well as the country, to restore and maintain the morale of the employees in the hope of securing satisfactory wage increases."

The strike ballot was made returnable not later than Nov. 25.

The non-operating unions represent the boilermakers, clerks, freight handlers and other railroad employees who do not operate trains.

Increase Set Aside

Chiefs of the five operating brotherhoods meeting in Chicago, authorized a strike ballot last week, but officials estimated twenty senators urging a specific plan for thirty days would be required to complete the vote. The brotherhoods, representing the engineers, firemen and others who operate railroads, had asked a wage increase of thirty per cent, or $3 a day, whichever was highest, and an emergency board approved four cents an hour.

The non-operating brotherhoods voted last December for a twenty-cents an hour wage increase, and that the reception sub-committee gave to some witnesses "wasn't any too warm." Hatch,

Pepper and others advocate a more pointed resolution which would, among other things, resolve the Democratic leader.

Senator Hatch (D-N.M.) put in that the reception sub-committee recommended an eight-cent increase. This was set aside, however, by Stabilization Director Fred M.

Vinson on the grounds it conflicted with wage stabilization policies.

"It would be a neglect of our duty if by failure to take concerted action and to allow growing dissatisfaction, we permitted the interest of the employees and the public interest to be injured by increasing individual discouragement which results in the drifting of large numbers of employees out of service of this essential war industry and also results in sporadic unauthorized strikes harmful alike to the employees, the carriers and the effective prosecution of the war," and the statement of the non-operating brotherhoods.

Price Controls Over Live Cattle Are Announced

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Price controls over live cattle which will confine the price range within $1 spread in each grade were issued today by Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson.

Top price for choice cattle is $16 a hundredweight.

The Vinson directive orders important changes in present marketing and subsidy procedures in the beef cattle industry.

Highlights of the directive:

1. Subsidies to slaughterers under the rollback program will be continued, but the present flat $1.10 per hundredweight for all grades will be replaced by graduated subsidies ranging from fifty cents to $1.45 per hundredweight, depending on grade.

2. Non-processing slaughterers, who do not process by-products, will be given an additional eight-cent subsidy per hundredweight in each grade.

3. The grade of live animals will be determined after slaughter by carcass grade.

4. Recipients of slaughter subsidies will be required to report each month the aggregate sum paid for live cattle and the dressed carcass weights of each grade slaughtered. Maximum and minimum prices are established for each grade, and the amount by which the monthly aggregate paid by the slaughterer exceeds the maximum will fall short of the minimum allowed for each grade will be de-

Destroyer Murphy Is Damaged in Collision

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The navy reported today that the Destroyer Murphy was damaged severely in collision with a merchant vessel in the North Atlantic.

A part of the forward structure of the destroyer, a 1700 ton ship, was sheared off in the collision, but she was successfully towed into New York harbor.

The navy said the next of kin of those will be notified as soon as reports are received.

The Murphy, commissioned in July, 1942, was under command of Commander Leonard W. Bailey, Jamestown, Rhode Island.

Later the navy reported that the unidentified merchant vessel was damaged slightly.

Verbal Clashes Mark Senate's Postwar Debate

Attempts Made To Write Stronger Language into Resolution

By HOWARD FLIEGER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Angry words flared in the Senate's international peace debate today over attempts to write stronger language into the Foreign Relations Committee's broad-termed resolution on postwar collaboration.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) declared he was no effort at intimidation on the part of anybody," replied Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader.

The non-operating brotherhoods, representing the engineers, firemen and others who operate railroads, had asked a wage increase of thirty per cent, or $3 a day, whichever was highest, and an emergency board approved four cents an hour.

House Approves Draft Measure By Voice Vote

All Non-Fathers Would Be Taken before Fathers Are Drafted

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—With an enthusiastic voice of "aye" the House today passed legislation requiring Selective Service to take all available single men and childless married men in the entire nation before drafting fathers.

This rule would apply regardless of the fathers' occupation. Under the measure, which now goes to the Senate, a father is defined as a man with children born prior to Sept. 15, 1942.

The bill is similar to one passed by the Senate on Oct. 6, but differs in that it strengthens the authority of Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, by taking away much administrative power delegated to Manpower Commissioner Paul M. McNutt. However, it removes much of the leeway the Senate bill would give Hershey in determining whether some fathers should be drafted before some non-fathers.

President Denies Charge

In another draft development today, President Roosevelt emphatically denied charges heard on Capitol Hill that federal employment has become a haven for draft dodgers. He cited figures to support his statement that the government's standards for draft deferment are much stricter than private industry's.

There were no roll-calls on the bill passed by the House. Only one "no" was heard as it was put to a voice vote. It came from Representative Morrison (D-N.C.), who told the House he was "proud of it."

Before passing the measure in the near-record time of four hours, the House refused to accept an amendment requiring the induction of fathers under 31 before older parents are taken.

The chamber wrote into the bill a stiff requirement that the president delegate to the Selective Service director "all" authority — except that relating to plant seizures — given him under the Selective Service act. The Military committee to delegate "any" authority in a move members said was intended to prohibit exercise of any Selective Service administrative power by the War Manpower Commission.

Connally Angers Ball

The Florida senator replied that the Texas senator accused him of trying to intimidate the resolution because it is "not the kind he wanted."

Declaring "the shadows of World War III stalk in this Senate this afternoon," Pepper said the committee's postwar resolution "is like an Old Mother Hubbard. It covers everything and touches nothing. At least our resolution says something."

The advocates of a more specific resolution encountered frequent questions as to whether their sanction of using military forces might not open the way to sending the United States into a future war without the consent of Congress but Pepper insisted that was not the intention.

Senator Eastland (D-Miss.) sent up an amendment today which would pledge the United States to reenter international trade and to remove impediments and restrictions which tend to hinder the prosperity of the United States and other nations, and which prevent nations from access upon fair and equitable terms to the raw materials and trade necessary to their national well-being."

Wavy Day
Wednesday . . . OCTOBER 27TH!

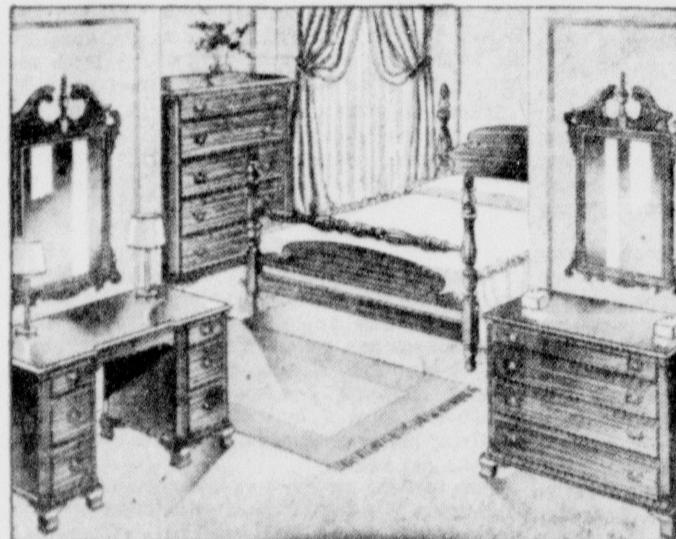

It was almost exactly one year ago this Navy Day that "Battleship X" plowed her way into the pages of history . . . shot the enemy from the skies above the Solomons, shot the enemy from the seas about the Solomons . . . and went on, covered with glory and battle-scars, to fresh encounters.

"Battleship X" is still, as far as we know, blasting the enemy from the skies and the seas. We salute her for herself. And we salute her for a symbol of a Navy which has always covered itself with glory. From battleship to P. T. boats, from admirals to apprentice seamen . . . the ships of our Navy, the men who sail in them, the wives who wait for them . . . we salute you with deep pride and deeper gratitude this Navy Day.

How can that man sailing the Seven Seas know how much you wanted him to have a merry Christmas — if you mail his box just a little too late? Don't break that poor kid's heart. Remember — Navy overseas packages must be mailed before November 1st. Don't let your Sailor down!

Encouraging Thoughts For This Navy Day

IN the tightening battle of the Pacific, it is encouraging to note on this Navy day that America's task, tough as it is, will be lightened by the great and growing superiority of the American navy.

Two years ago the Pacific fleet of the United States, a major part of the nation's sea strength, was inferior numerically to the Japanese fleet. Now this nation has more ships in all classes than the Japanese and apparently ship for ship the American vessels have more fire power than the enemy craft.

Today, as nearly as can be discovered, Japan has ten battleships, including two new sixteen-gun ships completed since the war began. Another new battleship is nearly completed. America has twenty-one battleships, including eight new sixteen-gun ships and several more nearing completion.

Japan has seven or eight aircraft carriers, including three or four converted auxiliary carriers. America has twelve to sixteen carriers, plus dozens of escort and auxiliary carriers and plane transport vessels.

Japan has thirty to thirty-five cruisers, both heavy and light. America has fifty to sixty of these fighting ships.

Japan has approximately seventy-five destroyers, exclusive of torpedo boats. America has more than 300 destroyers, not counting torpedo boats. Japan has approximately eighty submarines above the midget type. America has more than double that number.

Most of these American naval vessels are in the Pacific and they are being added to at a rate far greater than Japanese capacity to build ships. With Japan outshipped and out-gunned, the naval phase of the Pacific conflict seems secure.

But more important will be the factors of ability, courage, resourcefulness, initiative and intense patriotism of the men comprising our naval forces, to whom the people back home can give expression of the deepest gratitude on this Navy day.

Republican Women Score Splendidly

THE NEWS extends its congratulations to the energetic officers and members of the Women's Republican Club of Cumberland on being successful in obtaining Representative Joseph W. Martin, Jr., for an address here.

It was no easy thing to persuade the minority leader of the House of Representatives to come over here for a meeting, and no less easy for him to make the arrangements to do so. This is for the reason that his presence in his important position of leadership in the House makes it necessary for him to remain in the capital all the time, particularly during this wartime when so many vital proposals and plans are coming up.

Representative Martin is one of the finest, most level-headed, fairest and competent leaders of the Republican party. Naturally in close touch with all the leading national issues, he is in a better position than most leaders to give a report on conditions and trends. His message here will be awaited with unusual interest by the Republicans of the Western Maryland section, the important political influence of which has been duly recognized in his decision to come here, and by other party affiliates as well.

The interest in Martin and his interest in this section resulting in the arrangements for the meeting the evening of November 5 at the All Ghan Country Club reflect an awakened interest in the party, and it is good to note this thus far in advance of what will be perhaps one of the most important election contests ever held in this country.

America's Savings In Two Aspects

FREQUENTLY it is stated that the American people are saving tens of billions of dollars a year and that a huge reservoir of capital will be ready for investment—both at home and abroad—after the war.

That statement is now being challenged. Is it possible, it is asked, that the United States can be saving capital at the rate of tens of billions a year when the nation is spending a hundred billion dollars annually on economic destruction?

That expenditure is accounted for largely by certificates of indebtedness. When bonds of war bonds present them for payment, the Treasury must pay them with funds borrowed elsewhere. Finally, they will be retired by taking the money in taxes from citizens.

Is there, therefore, new capital being accumulated in America out of savings from large war incomes? In the sense that the people have the money, perhaps. But in the sense that the government owes this money and must collect it from citizens to pay the debt, no.

The creation of real capital in the United States will await the time when the budget is balanced and citizens have saved money after they have paid their taxes. Until that time the savings of America are obligated.

The World Calendar A Sensible Reform

SINCE the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce has sensibly given its endorsement of the World calendar, several readers have asked just what the proposed calendar is.

It is a revision of the existing calendar into a twelve-month equal-quarter calendar, which would be the same for every year.

The quarters are equal in length, which is something of great benefit to all business concerns and accountants.

Each quarter begins on Sunday and ends on Saturday and contains three months—thirteen weeks and ninety-one days.

Month dates always fall on the same weekdays. Each month has twenty-six weekdays—plus Sundays.

Each year begins on Sunday.

Year-end day and Leap Year day, the extra Saturdays, are World holidays.

This revised calendar is balanced in structure, perpetual in form, harmonious in arrangement. It has been advocated for several years by the World Calendar Association. It cures the quirks and deficiencies of the present calendar. Several countries have given it their endorsement and approval of it is growing throughout the United States. It cannot be effective, of course, until it has universal adoption and that is the objective of the association. It is sensible, practical and convenient, and it should be adopted.

A Welcome Street Patching Program

COMMENDATION is due Edgar H. Reynolds, commissioner of streets and public property; his street superintendent, Martin Corrigan, and their assistants for the most welcome efforts they have lately been exerting in patching the holes in the principal thoroughfares of the city.

While the lack of finances and the limitations on materials occasioned by the war exigency will prevent the city from tackling any large paving jobs at this time, and several are needed, it is the announced intention of the department to continue the patching program where it is most needed as the means and supplies will afford.

That is sensible, indeed, for many bad holes have been worn in the chief thoroughfares and maintenance is quite important, especially in view of the constant wear and tear that goes on, which does a lot of damage to vehicles, results in noises that disturb the slumber of the people when sleep is a necessary factor in furthering wartime work and affects the ill. The News believes Reynolds and his aids have the hearty applause of Cumberlanders generally for their work in this respect.

Nothing, said the Perfect Husband, "is too good for my little woman!" as he bought her a wedding anniversary gift of a pound of butter.

The Big Balloon Ascension

Are you old enough to remember the days of the Big Balloon Ascensions? ... We had them in our town and they were the most exciting event of the year. What's more, they deserved to be!

Imagine a balloon filled with gas, a man going up with that balloon, cutting himself loose and coming down with a parachute. It was thrilling stuff and every kid in town was helping to fill the Big Bag, hanging around, criticizing arrangements, giving a hand, hanging onto the ropes, being important. There was a swing over the open fire, slowly filling with gas, swaying and belying with the breeze. What was that stuff the fellow was throwing on the fire—gasoline or kerosene? Must be kerosene—anyway it filled the bag. ... Look at it now, pulling away, yearning toward the heavens. Gosh! suppose a kid got caught in the ropes and was pulled up with the balloon! How'd he ever get away?

And where was the Marvelous Death-Defying Balloon Jumper? Maybe he wasn't coming! Aw, don't you worry, he'll be there—and sure enough, just five minutes before the tremendous hour of 2 o'clock sharp, he arrived ... and he was disappointing. He walked with that springing, ungraceful stride of the trapeze performer on the ground, but he was so skinny ... his legs were so thin ... his knees were knobby ... his tights were stained and shabby ... and he didn't look like a hero, he looked like a "common man."

He stood around, tested ropes, spread his parachute and attached it to the big bag, told everybody to let go when he gave the word, waited and waited and waited—that common man who was about to do an uncommon thing. ... But at last he left us with a whoop and swish and a holler, with dangling ropes, before 2,000 pale and upturned faces he left us. Waving his hands, dangling by his knees, while a trumpet blew and a big drum went boom-boom-boom, that ordinary fellow left us for the perilous skies. ... And even after he came down again and his wide 'chute bloomed like a great flower against the blue sky and we all ran out the road to meet the Marvelous Fellow, he looked just the same! He'd done this amazing thing but he still looked like anybody else. So we just stared at him.

And I, for one, have been staring at him ever since and I've seen him a thousand times. I see him in common, unimpressive faces everywhere, and whenever I do say to myself: "He looks commonplace but you never can tell. He might go up in a balloon some day. He might do something brave. He may be a hero, inside. So we just stared at him."

America's Savings In Two Aspects

FREQUENTLY it is stated that the American people are saving tens of billions of dollars a year and that a huge reservoir of capital will be ready for investment—both at home and abroad—after the war. That statement is now being challenged. Is it possible, it is asked, that the United States can be saving capital at the rate of tens of billions a year when the nation is spending a hundred billion dollars annually on economic destruction?

That expenditure is accounted for largely by certificates of indebtedness. When bonds of war bonds present them for payment, the Treasury must pay them

Treaty Is Seen Most Important In Peace Effort

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The debate in the Senate this week is strangely reminiscent of the debates which were heard in America during World War I and shortly thereafter.

Then, as now, the senators said the world must be organized so that there would be no further aggression and so that American lives would not have to be sacrificed again.

Then, as now, the phrases of resolutions were discussed and the senators, depending on their respective points of view, were cautious about the implications of this or that phrase.

Back in 1915 William Howard Taft organized the League to Enforce peace. As a former president of the United States who approached the matter without partisanship, his proposals were acclaimed, and from time to time various parts of his program were approved by Theodore Roosevelt and Senator Lodge.

Then when President Wilson took up the idea and carried it to Paris to be embodied in the peace treaty, some of the Republican senators veered away from it. Again the thought was expressed that the treaty be signed first and the form of world organization be left to some future time. But Mr. Wilson believed that the making of a worldwide organization to preserve peace was an imperative first step.

Suggestions Incorporated

Opposition came from Republican quarters. Mr. Wilson received constructive suggestions from William Howard Taft and Elihu Root, the leaders of the Republican party. Every one of the suggestions was put into the covenant of League of Nations, but when Mr. Wilson returned from Paris he found an organized opposition in the Senate.

The reservations which were offered under the leadership of Senator Lodge were of such a nature that President Wilson thought they nullified the league. The reservations would have required renegotiation with the other governments and meant endless delay and perhaps the killing of the league covenant. Mr. Wilson agreed to what he termed "interpretive" reservations offered by Senator Hitchcock. The Senate refused to ratify the covenant, the vote being just about eight less than the needed two-thirds. This was in 1919 and 1920.

Finally came the presidential campaign of 1920. Thirty-one Republicans of prominence, including William Howard Taft, Elihu Root, Charles Evans Hughes and George W. Wickes, signed a statement saying that a vote for Harding was a vote for the league with the Lodge reservations and that if Governor Cox, of Ohio, were elected president, he would insist on the league without these reservations.

Harding Refused Re-submission

But when Mr. Harding was elected president—although he had twice been in the Senate voted for the League of Nations covenant with the Lodge reservations—he refused to re-submit the covenant and it has never been submitted for ratification since then. By thus turning on the international-minded group of his own party, Mr. Harding adopted the isolationist point of view.

The League of Nations, which was to have been started with the United States as a charter member, found itself without the most powerful nation in the world as a member. All through the Senate debates it had been agreed that the league of nations should form the nucleus of a world organization. Everything that is being said this week was said then.

The other governments of the world have since blamed the misfortunes of the league and the chaos in Europe on America's abstention from a world organization. The criticism was felt deeply by President Hoover, who helped to promulgate the so-called Kellogg-Briand treaties outlawing aggressive war as an instrument of national policy. Virtually all nations, including America, signed those treaties, but again America refused to say specifically whether she would come.

Plodding War Strategy Is Questioned As Need of Quick Offensives Is Seen

to the aid of the victims of aggression.

German Rearming Ignored

Meanwhile, Germany's economic situation became worse and worse and the consequences of her inflation were such as to produce social disorder to remedy which Hitler came into power and assumed a dictatorship. From 1933, when Hitler took office, warnings came regularly to America that he was arming Germany.

Many billions of dollars that were spent on the WPA program here might have been spent in building up America's armament. While, fortunately, some of the money was appropriated for that purpose, the fact is that our national leadership in the executive and legislative branches ignored the rising power of Germany and the prospects of a second world war.

Finally came the presidential campaign of 1936. Thirty-one Republicans of prominence, including William Howard Taft, Elihu Root, Charles Evans Hughes and George W. Wickes, signed a statement saying that a vote for Harding was a vote for the League of Nations covenant with the Lodge reservations.

It is not the resolutions which are before the Senate which will commit America to a definite program of assisting in maintaining the peace of the world but definite commitments in the form of specific treaties that will come up later on.

Almost any of the resolutions before the Senate will be helpful as a gesture of American interest in preserving peace. It's the wording and obligations of the treaty to be submitted some day which will count and the willingness of the American people to back up that treaty.

It is not the time to bear fully to decide whether our war strategy is wise and sound.

Both in Italy and in the South Pacific, we are committed to fronts which seem to have outworn their usefulness and value in relation to cost. Has not the time arrived for a wholly new venture to everywhere?

We have overwhelming superiority in air and sea. We out-number and out-gain our enemies on every front. But we are not bringing this superiority to bear fully at decisive points.

In Italy, we have been held down to stubborn plodding of a few miles a day, while in the Pacific, General MacArthur is working from tree to tree and village to village.

Truth requires the statement that the initiative which we have assumed in this war is not being brilliantly and aggressively maintained, but is slowing up and bogging down on fronts that have lost their former value to us. New strategy is demanded.

PARTY LINES are PATRIOTIC LINES

The copper that used to go into new telephone lines is now going into war weapons. This means we must make the most of the lines we now have.

Thus, party lines become a part of the all-out war effort—they take on a new name—PATRIOTIC LINES.

You will find that "Patriotic-line" telephone service is good telephone service if all users will follow these simple rules:

1. If another is using the line, hang up gently and wait a reasonable time before trying again.
2. Make way for your neighbor by being as brief as you can on your calls.
3. Avoid making a number of calls in succession.
4. Replace the receiver carefully after each call so as not to prevent others from using the line.

EXCESSIVE SALARY CLAIM IS REJECTED

The minority stockholder suit of Albert S. Oshrin, holder of 120 shares of an issue of 1,376,551 common stock of the Celanese Corp. of America, to prevent a continuance of alleged waste by directors of the company, has been dismissed by the Court of Appeals at Albany, N. Y. The State's highest court by a vote of six to one upheld decision of the Appellate Division, First Department, of Dec. 18, 1942, dismissing the complaint. Chief Justice Irving Lehman wrote the prevailing opinion, with Associate Justice Charles S. Desmond dissenting.

Mr. Oshrin alleged that the directors of the Celanese Corp. of America had voted "nearly all" of themselves excessive salaries, thereby wasting funds of the corporation. Among those charged in the complaint as receiving too much were Dr. Camille Dreyfus and Dr. Henry Dreyfus, inventors, who, it was claimed, agreed to turn over to the company certain secret manufacturing processes for stock and salary considerations.

The complaint alleged that Dr. Camille Dreyfus received a salary of $181,345, and Dr. Henry Dreyfus, $180,405. Other alleged excessive salaries included: W. McCameron, $77,114; John A. Larkin, $69,868; H.

In his prevailing opinion, Chief Judge Lehman said:

"Through the allegation that a salary is 'excessive' may perhaps in appropriate context be accepted as an allegation of fact rather than a conclusion of the pleader, yet in this case the allegations . . . entirely fail to show that all the individual defendants or any particular individual defendant either took part in voting an excessive salary to any director or received an excessive salary himself. Such allegations are insufficient to constitute a cause of action."

Series of Social Events Planned by Elks Lodge

District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Will Be Here November 17

Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B. P. O. Elks has planned a full schedule of social activities for members and friends, according to an announcement made yesterday by Phillip Jolley, chairman of arrangements.

J. Howard Murray, Towson, district deputy grand exalted ruler will make his annual official visit here November 17. There will be an initiation of new members and a bullet luncheon will be served at the conclusion of the program.

A Halloween dance will be given for Elks and their friends October 30 in the cocktail lounge, which will be specially decorated for the occasion. Jimmy Andrews and his orchestra will play from 9 to 1 o'clock. A "shrimp feed" will be held for members only November 3, following the regular meeting at 8 o'clock. Elks and invited guests will be entertained at an informal Thanksgiving eve open house on November 24. A bridge party in the lodge room will be the feature entertainment, and prizes will be awarded. Phillip Jolley is chairman of arrangements. There will also be dancing in the cocktail lounge with music by Jimmy Andrews and his orchestra.

Dr. Steinmeyer Will Speak Here

In accordance with the new program of the Sisterhood of B'nai Chayim Congregation of having a guest speaker at an evening meeting every other month, to which the public is invited, Dr. Reuben G. Steinmeyer will be the speaker at 8 o'clock this evening in the vestry room.

Head of the department of Political Science at the University of Maryland, Dr. Steinmeyer has chosen for his topic, "Some Problems of the Postwar World." A forum will follow. Mrs. Harry Beneham will preside at the meeting and Mrs. Julius Schindler will introduce the speaker.

Betty Jean Nelson Becomes Bride of Merlin Catherman

Miss Betty Jean Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Nelson, 45 Bowery street, became the bride of Merlin Francis Catherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Catherman, West Mechanic street, Frostburg, Monday afternoon.

The ceremony was solemnized at the parsonage of the Salem Evangelical Reformed church with the Rev. George L. Wehner, pastor officiating.

Miss Loreta Finzel was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. Robert Serec served as Mr. Catherman's best man.

The bride was attired in a navy blue street dress with which she wore tan accessories and coat. A corsage of rosebuds completed her costume. She is a graduate of Beall high school, Frostburg, and is employed at the Celanese Corporation of America.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Beall high school and prior to entering the United States Navy, June 16 he was employed at the W. W. Stuss store, Frostburg. He has just completed his boot training at Bambridge and will return there tomorrow for assignment. He has two brothers also in the service, Paul Matthew Catherman, fireman first class, who is on sea duty in the South Pacific area, and Sgt. Floyd Catherman, Camp Dix, N. J.

Mrs. Catherman will reside with her parents for the duration.

CRESAP HOMEMAKERS PLAN ACHIEVEMENT DAY PROGRAM

Committees were appointed and plans made for the Community Achievement day program at the meeting of the Cresap Homemakers Club yesterday morning at the Cresapton Methodist church hall.

Mrs. Thomas Miller appointed Mrs. Trubadour Lewis, Mrs. Charles Rice and Mrs. John Lewis members of the nominating committee. The election will be held at the December meeting. The auditing committee also appointed includes Mrs. Edward Lewis and Mrs. Carl Ziegler.

The Achievement day program will be held jointly with the Potomac Park, Potomac Valley and Bowling Green Homemakers Clubs and the Progressive Young Women's Club of Rawlings, on November 3 from 10 o'clock in the morning until 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and will be at the Cresapton Methodist church hall. A miniature fair will be held and prizes will be awarded for the best exhibits of clothing, household articles and canning. A box luncheon will be held and tea will be served by members of the Cresap Homemakers Club.

Local Women Will Attend Democratic Meeting in Baltimore

Four Cumberland women will attend the convention of the United Democratic Women's Club of Maryland as delegates and alternates. Mrs. Joseph Griffin and Mrs. Paul Stein are the delegates; Mrs. John Reed and Mrs. Katherine K. Moore, the alternates. Mrs. Elizabeth R. Menefee will also attend.

The convention will open today with approximately 250 delegates representing 120 units expected to be present. Plans for individual club participation in the 1944 National election will be made. Mrs. Brewer Stouffer of Hagerstown, state chairman, announced.

Arrangements will be made to carry on the fight for a women's jury service bill at the next session of the general assembly in 1945 despite the fact that it was defeated before, she said.

Trinity Lutheran Young People Plan Programs

Primary Department Will Hold Annual Halloween Party Thursday

Three groups of young people from the Trinity Lutheran church have planned special programs for this week at the parish hall.

The annual Halloween party of the Primary department of the Sunday school will be held at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. The members will come in masquerade costumes and a grand march will be a feature of the entertainment. The Halloween motif has been carried out in the decorations with orange and black crepe paper streamers, lantern pumpkins and black cats.

Mrs. Jessie Welsh, superintendent; Mrs. D. R. Dillingham, Mrs. Gladys Andrews, Mrs. Harold Knippenberg, Mrs. Louis Appel and Mrs. Julius Damm, teachers, will be in charge of the entertainment program and will serve refreshments.

The Walther League of the Youth Fellowship will have its special program at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

One of the features of the evening will be the candidates for president giving campaign speeches for their opponents. The Rev. William von-Spreckelsen will show technicolor sound pictures of Valparaiso university, which is controlled by the Missouri Synod. There will also be special entertainment under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Showman and Miss Kathleen Brant.

Last evening the Junior choristers held a "Halloween Frolic," under the sponsorship of Mrs. Jessie Welsh and Mrs. John Dorn, Jr. organist. It was attended by the children in costume and their parents.

Favors were presented to all and Halloween games and group singing featured the entertainment. Following the program refreshments were served.

RIDGELEY LIONS GIVE TO WAR FUND DRIVE AND RED CROSS

At the dinner-meeting of the Ridgeley Lions Club last evening at the Calvary Methodist church recreation hall, Ridgeley, members voted to donate $20 to the National War Fund drive and $25 to the Red Cross for filling kit bags.

A report on the street carnival held in September showed that the Rod and Gun club and the Lions club each netted $259.35.

Melvin Heiskell will be in charge of the program at the meeting November 9, which will be devoted to National Education week. A panel discussion will be held on the subject, "Who Is Responsible for Government Bureaus?"

A meeting of the board of directors and committee chairmen will be held at the home of Aden Everstine at 7:30 o'clock, November 4.

Marriage Is Announced

The marriage of Miss Aletha Naille Oldtown and Luther William Shryock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shryock, Oldtown, has been announced.

The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock the evening of June 6 in the parsonage of the Rev. Mr. Griffith, Hagerstown.

The bride is a graduate of the Oldtown high school, class of 1943. She is now employed at the Celanese Corporation of America.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Flintstone high school, class of 1941.

The convention will open today with approximately 250 delegates representing 120 units expected to be present. Plans for individual club participation in the 1944 National election will be made. Mrs. Brewer Stouffer of Hagerstown, state chairman, announced.

Arrangements will be made to carry on the fight for a women's jury service bill at the next session of the general assembly in 1945 despite the fact that it was defeated before, she said.

Informal Party Held

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leasure entertained all those persons who assisted at the American Legion banquet last Thursday, at an informal party last evening at their home, Warren street.

Impromptu entertainment featured the evening and refreshments were served. Twenty-two guests attended.

"Wash done, cake begun, all before noon...thanks to Super Suds' EXTRA SUDS!"

"It's wonderful how MORE SUDS, LONGER-LASTING SUDS, save time and work," says Mrs. Anne Judge

"The first time my daughters, Marla and Sheila, saw me bakin' on Monday, they could hardly believe it! They were used to me bein' all tuckered out after doin' the wash. But with Super Suds, such HEAPS MORE SUDS and LONGER-LASTIN' SUDS lift out dirt so fast and easy! I'm not nearly so tired after washin' with Super Suds."

"Seeing's believing, ladies...and you will see ALL THE SUDS, all the LONG-LASTING SUDS of your fondest hopes from new, sudsy Super Suds! Yes, the kind of suds old hands at washing have always wanted...to save time, save rubbing, save clothes. Let new, sudsy-than-ever Super Suds save you work."

DON'T WASTE SOAP!

Vital materials needed to win the war are used in making soap

1. Don't just pour soap in from the box. Measure it out in a cup so you don't use too much.
2. Don't wash a few clothes at a time, which means soap for each batch. Save them up and wash everything at once.
3. Don't soak clothes first in soapy water. Modern soaps are made to take out the dirt in the regular washing.
4. Don't wash dishes without first rinsing them. Less soap is needed if they are rinsed first. Wash greasy dishes last.

Make the "milk-bottle suds test!"

Shake up two teaspoons of regular wash-day soap and a glass of water in a milk-bottle. Do the same with Super Suds in another milk-bottle. Even hard or cool water will do. See if you don't get MORE SUDS, LONGER-LASTING SUDS from Super Suds!

Members of the Past Presidents Club of the Veterans of Foreign Wars formulated plans for a banquet, January 3, at the home, at the meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Eva Smith, Harrison street, with Mrs. Elsie Kilroy presiding.

When Miss Reta Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvey R. Ryan, Route 3 was sworn in the Women's Reserve of the United States Coast Guard Reserve, October 23, she was the first Cumberland to join the SPARS. She will leave to begin her training at Palm Beach, Fla., November 12.

A graduate of Fort Hill high school, class of 1940. Miss Ryan participated in all musical activities there, being a member of the Glee club, the Cantabile club, the Choral Speaking club and Dramatic club.

She also was a member of the student council and the subject speech class. In conjunction with her 4-H Club program she worked for two years in the school cafeteria.

Miss Ryan is a former member of the Union Grove 4-H Club and at present is the local leader for the Bedford Road 4-H Club; a member of the Cumberland Junior 4-H Club and the Maryland Chapter of 4-H All Stars. In 1941 she was state representative at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, and national winner of the food preservation contest. She received a $200 scholarship prize and attended Catherine's Business school. She is now employed as stenographer in the sales department of the Kelly Springfield Tire Company.

A member of the Elliott Memorial Methodist church Miss Ryan has been active in church work. She is recreational leader of the Young Fellowship; has charge of the worship devotionals of the Women's Society and is also a member of the Epworth League and church choir.

Among her war work activities, Miss Ryan took the aircraft warning course and served as a plane spotter at the Bedford Road station; helped with the family victory garden and assisted at the Gephart school with rationing.

In discussing the work she hopes to do as a SPAR, Miss Ryan said yesterday she wants to become a food commissary steward.

Two parties to "boost morale on the home front" will be given by Mrs. Ralph R. Webster, 852 Camden avenue. They will be in the form of bridge-luncheons at 12:30 o'clock at the Cumberland Country Club, one tomorrow and the other Friday.

Autumn leaves will decorate the room and the Halloween motif will be carried out in the decorations with pumpkin lanterns, witches and cats. The same motif will be carried out in the table appointments and place cards. There will be five tables in play.

Turkeys seldom live more than five years.

Do you have headaches?

Do you lack pep or vim?

Do you get irritable easily?

Do you feel depressed—nervous?

Do you feel headachy—irritated—tired—dizzy?

Do you feel all-around relief than you can get from an ordinary simple laxative alone? Then, as medical science proves, you should do two things:

1. Get liver bile flowing freely.

2. Clear out the intestinal tract.

To do both, take Carter's Little Liver Pill tonight. The first thing Carter's usually do while you're comfortably asleep is to increase the flow of liver bile—a vital digestive juice. This helps to digest your food properly. This first Carter action alone may make you feel much better when you wake up!

The Carter's second action helps relieve the sharp condition that may easily be at the bottom of all your headachy, depressed, tired feeling.

Carter's double action is due to their special formula. Thousands know how well they work. Get Carter's Little Liver Pill today—only 25¢ at any druggist's. Take as directed. You'll be glad you did.

BANQUET PLANNED BY V.F.W. PAST PRESIDENTS CLUB

Members of the Past Presidents Club of the Veterans of Foreign Wars formulated plans for a banquet, January 3, at the home, at the meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Eva Smith, Harrison street, with Mrs. Elsie Kilroy presiding.

The banquet will be in honor of the retiring officers and the officers for the ensuing year who will be elected at the time.

A social hour concluded the evening and awards were won by Mrs. Hester Lindamond, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Halley and Mrs. Elsie Kilroy. Refreshments were served following the play. Mrs. Mary Smith was a guest and eight members attended.

Mrs. Rosalee Everstine will be hostess for the next meeting November 29 at her new home, Beall street.

Sorority Meets

A review of the life of John Singer Sargent was given by Miss Mary Rice at the meeting of the Maryland Alpha Chapter of Delta Theta Chi sorority Monday evening in the George Williams rooms of Central Y. M. C. A.

A number of Red Cross kit bags were filled and returned last evening, and the attendance prize was awarded to Mrs. Catherine Miller. A spaghetti dinner at Trozzo's preceded the meeting. The next meeting will be held November 8.

Hit and Run Driver Sought in Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (AP) — Air-raid wardens and other civilian defense workers were instructed today to co-operate with police in the search for a hit-and-run driver whose car struck two small children, dragging one several miles through the Northeastern section of the city.

Air-raid-wardens, fireguards and messengers have been given a description of the driver of the car, and asked to be on the alert. Action was taken on suggestion of Police Inspector Thomas J. Mooney, chief air-raid warden.

The driver was described as 45 or 50 years old, five feet seven inches in height, weighing about 145 pounds and with a small black mustache.

Only 107,000 British and American forces were used to assault and penetrate 800 miles of coastline in the invasion of Africa.

Carloadings Increase

Carloads handled by the Baltimore and Ohio during the week ended October 23, 1943, totaled 75,867 made up of 48,645 loaded on line and 30,222 received from connections. This was an increase of 5,350 cars as compared with the same week of last year when the total was 70,517 consisting of 42,255 loaded on line and 30,262 received from connections.

During the preceding week (the week ended October 16) the total was 75,277 including 45,372 loaded on line and 29,905 received from connections. Carloads handled during the same week of 1943 were 64,623 comprising 42,501 loaded on line and 22,122 received from connections.

The driver was described as 45 or 50 years old, five feet seven inches in height, weighing about 145 pounds and with a small black mustache.

CHAPTER FORTY-SEVEN

Zeb was able to travel, and they helped the doctor get him into the doctor's car. Then they got Aunt Mary Mosher from under her bed, where she had crawled, assured her that all was well, gave her a stiff drink of brandy, and took the detour that would get them into Linville.

The streets were lined with people—hundreds of questions were being asked—excitement ran high. No, there hadn't been a bombing. Yes, the factory was quite all right. Yes, it was sabotage, but sabotage gone wrong, thank heavens. On and on. Endless questions. Endless answers. And the next day Zeb

Rottler able to talk more clearly, able to give more details. And his aunt also—a sobbing, heart-sick woman—pouring out the old, old story of being forced to aid the saboteurs through threats.

"Such as mixing salt with sugar?" Adam interrupted.

"Yes, sir," said the woman.

"And they made me drop that note you found of being forced to aid the saboteurs through threats.

"Who gave it to you?"

"One of those men gave it to Otto, and he forced me to drop it where I did, so the guard would find it."

"Did he ever tell you he intended helping to blow up the factory?"

"Not in so many words," the woman replied.

"Anyway, I didn't think he'd go that far—only just damage machinery and things like that."

"I see," said Adam. He turned to a policeman. "Keep her in custody for a few days, officer," he said.

"We'll look into her story further—and if she's telling the truth, perhaps she can come back here to work."

"Please believe me," the woman begged. "I never wanted to cause any trouble. I like working here—I'm helping Zeb, and—

"Helping him buy motor boats," they called him.

"When you did find out, why didn't you report?" the policeman demanded.

The woman nodded. "But Otto made me do it," she said. "He also helped to lay for the boat. I didn't know until afterward, though, that they were having Zeb meet a larger boat at the mouth of the river, and—and take on stuff to make bombs—stuff that was sent down from Norfolk by the man higher up, as part of his arm, was brought to a policeman. "Go on with your story, sonny."

Zeb then told of how one of the men had seen him before he could get away—of how he had turned to run, hoping to get to town and report what he had seen—or how the man had lifted his gun and fired point-blank—of how he had stumbled on, finally reaching the old Leigh place.

"No wonder we never discovered anything," Adam said. "We looked everywhere but in the well."

"You wouldn't expect to find dynamite and TNT in a well," said

ASK ADAM

"North?" he said, a pleading expression in his eyes.

"Of course I do," said Adam.

"And when I've got done my lessons in working a lathe," Zeb went on, "can—can I get a job there in the factory?"

"I think that can be arranged," said Adam. "Somebody's got to take Otto's place. He was a mighty good tool-maker."

"And evidently knew something about making bombs, too," said a policeman.

Everyone left then, and Adam was alone. He relaxed in his chair behind the bread desk and closed his eyes for a moment.

Jack Vinton came in. "They're postponed the play for a week," he said. "Mrs. Platt asked me to tell you. They'll give it two days before

I leave, so they won't have to get someone else for my role."

"Good!" said Adam. "I'm glad it's off for a week—and that you're still in the cast."

"I also wanted to report that everything's swell down in the factory," Jack said. "After what happened last night the men seem to be working harder and faster than ever. They're darned grateful, too."

"What do you mean what about us?" said Jack.

"You know what I mean," said Adam. "When's the wedding?"

SUN'S NEWEST AVIATION FUEL PLANT DEDICATED TODAY!

The plant pictured is the latest addition to Sunoco's Marcus Hook Refinery, which every week produces enough 100-octane aviation gasoline to propel 2000 four-engine bombers from England to Berlin and back.

Adds to Sunoco's position as one of the world's largest producers of aviation fuel !

Today Sunoco proudly dedicates a huge new aviation gasoline plant, the largest of its type in existence. In this self-contained plant, all petroleum components of aviation gasoline are produced and blended into the finest 100-octane fighting fuel.

The new plant, added to the giant facilities already in operation, makes our Marcus Hook refinery one of the largest producers of 100-octane aviation fuel in the world.

Sun First to Make Catalytic Cracking Commercially Practical

Sunoco's leadership really began long before Pearl Harbor, when the company first made commercially practical a now-famous process of catalytic cracking. No greater contribution has been made to the war effort. For, without the principle of catalytic cracking, Allied aviation fuel requirements could not have been met.

A Triumph of Private Initiative

Sunoco's entire aviation fuel program has been accomplished without government aid or subsidy. Facilities costing more than $6 million dollars are now devoted to war production in the company's Marcus Hook refinery alone. It is only through such free play of private initiative that all American progress has been achieved.

Pvt. Robert Ross, Detmold, Sees Action against Japanese

LONACONING, Oct. 26—Word has been received here that Pvt. Robert A. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ross, Detmold, has been in action against the Japanese in the Guadalcanal and New Georgia islands.

Pvt. Ross entered the United States Army in January, 1942, and received his basic training at the Infantry Training and Replacement Center, Camp Wheeler, Georgia.

After spending a three-day furlough here with relatives in early May, he left for Indiana Gap, Pa., and then crossed the country to San Francisco, California, where he was stationed for a short time.

Pvt. Ross has been in the South Pacific combat area since June, 1942. In a recent letter to the Allegany County Letter League, he related that he was very glad to receive the league letters; that they "sure keep me up on the main happenings around the old home town."

He also revealed that cigarette lighters were scarce "down under"; that one couldn't be bought for "any amount of money".

Brief Mention

Winchell Named In Libel Action

CHICAGO, Oct. 26—Walter Winchell, newspaper and radio columnist; his radio sponsor and the Blue Network, Inc., were sued for $1,000,000 today in a libel action filed in behalf of George Washington Robnett, executive secretary of the Church League of America.

The federal court suit, filed by Attorney J. A. Cobey, alleged Winchell, the Andrew Jergens Company, his sponsor, and the radio chain conspired to defame Robnett and the league while discussing a book, "Under Cover," in broadcasts on July 25, August 1 and September 19.

The book, written by John Roy Carlson, contained false information defaming Robnett and the Church League, the suit alleged. The bill stated the manuscripts read by Winchell over the air were prepared by the three defendants in a conspiracy to commit defamation.

Robnett's suit contained two counts and asked actual damages of $500,000 and punitive damages of $500,000.

Earlier this month Robnett filed an attachment suit in circuit court against E. P. Dutton and Company, publisher of the Carlson book.

count is changed, the department said, the accrued amounts representing the difference between old and new rates will be included in a first-payment check.

The Office of Dependency Benefits already has started work on the necessary changes and its director, Brig. Gen. H. N. Gilbert, emphasized that dependents already receiving allowances need not make any application for increased payments. Unnecessary letters and inquiries, he said, will only delay the work.

Following is a comparison of some monthly payments under the old and the new laws (the serviceman's contributions being included in all cases). The first figure represents the old payments and the second the new:

Dependent wife, $50, $50.

Wife and child, $62, $50.

Additional children, $10, $20.

Child but no wife (with $20 for each additional child), $42, $42.

Divorced wife, $42, $42.

One parent (dependent for chief support):

Where there is no class A dependent, $37, $38.

Where there is Class A dependent, $20, $20.

Two parents (dependent for chief support):

Where there is no Class A dependent, $47, $48.

Where there is Class A dependent, $30, $30.

Two parents (dependent for substantial support):

Where there is no Class A dependent, $37, $38.

Where there is Class A dependent, $20, $20.

Two parents (dependent for chief support):

Where there is no Class A dependent, $47, $47.

Where there is Class A dependent, $30, $30.

One parent and one brother or sister (dependent for chief support):

September of this year, as compared with the total for the parallel period of 1942, were:

Income Tax Increases

Taxes from collectors' real and personal property taxes, $633,079 this year, $1,192,363 for the same period in 1942; corporation taxes, $2,301,873 and $1,207,141; alcoholic beverages taxes and beer, $1,414,288 and $1,999,052; gasoline taxes, $2,330,982 and $2,787,535; income tax, $1,346,656 and $2,144,128; inheritance taxes, $312,115 and $688,195; Maryland Racing Commission, $18,988 and $430,361.

He said some "sharp differences may appear in the comparisons of these figures."

"The essential difference lies in the fact that the comparisons for this year and for 1942 are based on different fiscal periods, and it will not be until the end of the current year that these differences adjust themselves."

The 1943 Legislature changed the starting date of the state's fiscal year from Oct. 1 to July 1 in order to conform with that of the federal government.

Strike Ballot

said the brotherhoods would co-operate with and present their case to a new emergency board which President Roosevelt has appointed to reconsider their wage demands.

Jewell also said the order for a strike ballot did not necessarily mean that the question of taking their case to the courts had been discarded. The brotherhoods have contended Vinson lacked authority to disallow the emergency board's recommendation for an eight-cent increase.

The instructions to go out with the strike ballot cautioned members of the unions that no strike must take place until authorized.

"It must be further understood," the instructions say, "that no strike will occur until all reasonable efforts to secure an acceptable settlement have been exhausted."

Wartime Measure

The committee adopted a resolution saying that within six months after the president declares hostilities have ended, the levies on liquor, beer and wine shall return to their levels of January 1, 1943.

It discarded flatly a treasury proposal that around $485,000,000 additional be raised by increasing taxes on cigarettes and other tobacco products.

Thus far the tax-framing body has cut about $80,000,000 from the administration's requested $10,500,000 in new levies leaving the prospect of less than $2,000,000 in additional revenue, unless a sales tax or some other new levy is adopted.

Yet to be voted on are proposals for higher rates on corporate incomes, through which the administration hoped to get $1,100,000 additional. However, there appeared little, if any, likelihood that the corporate normal and surtax rate of forty per cent would be upheld.

In the confusing tax situation, discussions persisted on the possibility of a federal retail sales tax.

The levies approved today included a new tax of four per cent on the total wagers through parimutuel machines, estimated to yield $22,000,000 annually. Other levies, in addition to those previously listed, included:

Levies on Light Bulbs

Electric light bulbs and tubes—Now five per cent of manufacturers' sale price, increased to fifteen per cent; luggage, handbags, wallets (only luggage now taxed); from ten per cent of manufacturers' price, to twenty-five percent of retail.

Certain toilet preparations (soaps, tooth and mouth washes, dentifrices)—now not under excises, to ten per cent of manufacturers' price.

Local telephone—ten per cent of bill, to fifteen per cent; long distance phone twenty per cent, to twenty-five; telegraph, radio and cable fifteen per cent domestic, to twenty international, from ten to fifteen per cent; leased wires—not serviced, fifteen per cent, to twenty per cent; leased wires—serviced, from five to seven per cent (new wires exempted).

Transportation of persons—now ten per cent, to fifteen per cent; transportation of property, present three per cent tax repealed.

Club dues—now eleven per cent, to 20 per cent of charge.

The committee declined to disturb the present 3.3 per cent rate on the sales price of electrical energy.

The Deaconesses of the First Baptist church will meet at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the church.

The Relief sewing will be held at the First Presbyterian church house from 9 to 4 o'clock today.

The Bureau of Supplies, in addition to importing strategic materials and doing preclusive buying abroad, will assemble and screen all foreign requirements and will be responsible, Crowley said, for the presentation of requirements and claimancy before the War Production Board and the War Food Administration.

The bureau of areas will coordinate development of three area programs, work with the State department on policy determinations, relate programs to military plans and assist in the direction of field operations.

Selected Stocks Show Increases Of from One to Seven Points

BY BERNARD S. O'HARA

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Selected stocks swung upward behind liquor specialties in today's market and despite interruption of business toward the finish by an air raid drill alarm throughout New York City, a number of favorites finished up one to around seven points at peak levels for 1943.

Trading was suspended in the final half hour when the sirens sounded but, for the first time in the memory of veteran members, the exchange governors decided to extend the session beyond the usual 3 p. m. closing. Dealings, consequently, were resumed at 3:30 p. m. and halted at 3:40 p. m. while the pace slowed appreciably toward the last activity put volume at the best in more than a month.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was up 3 of a point at 50.9. Transfers totalled 895,870 shares compared with 651,370 Monday.

United States Steel held a plus mark of 1/2 and, after the extended close, directors voted another $1 dividend.

J. I. Case jumped 4 1/2 to 130 1/2 at a new top for the year in the wake of approval by directors of a 4-for-1 splitup of the stock.

Others in the new high division included American Distilling, up 7 1/2; Distillers Corp.—Seagrams, National Distillers, Schenley, Hiram Walker, Standard Brands, Western Union and Postal Telegraph. Others in front were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Bethlehem, Du Pont, Texas Co., Anaconda, Allied Chemical and Eastman Kodak.

Chrysler slipped, along with American Telephone, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Dow Chemical and American Smelting.

Adventure and romance run neck and neck in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's newest picture, "The Adventures of Tartu", which stars Robert Donat and with Valerie Hobson, Glynis Johns and Walter Rilla in the chief supporting cast. The war drama opens tomorrow at the Maryland theater.

Directed in London by Harold S. Bucquet, the picture depicts the adventures of a special British agent, Tartu, who is assigned to go to Czechoslovakia, blow up the Skoda works and bring back with him the formula the Nazis have been using for producing poison gas. He undergoes several changes in costume, after he sets out to fulfill his mission. Little did he think he would run into so pretty an ally as Valerie Hobson, who almost causes him to lose his life.

Music, Fun Blended In Drama-Comedy

Diversified music plays an important part in Universal's drama-comedy, "Top Man", coming Thursday to the Liberty theater. Susanna Foster, starred with Donald O'Connor, Lillian Gish, Richard Dix and Peggy Ryan, sings several numbers in the new film. O'Connor and Miss Ryan present a duet and special rhythmic selections are offered by the famous Borrah Minevitch Rascals, the Booby Brooks quartette and Count Basie and his orchestra.

Durocher Re-Hires Dressen and Corriden

BROOKLYN, Oct. 26. (AP)—As his first official act since his re-appearance as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Leo the Lip Durocher today re-hired Charles (Chuck) Dressen and John (Red) Corriden as his coaches for 1944. Dressen, long regarded as the top "signal-stealer" in the big leagues, was one of those mentioned as a possible Dodger manager until President Branch Rickey ended speculation yesterday by signing the Lip to a one-year contract.

Twilight Tear Is Early Favorite In Selima Stakes

Ten Two-Year-Old Fillies Named To Contest Pimlico Feature

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (AP) — A field of ten two-year-old fillies, including virtually every top racer in the division now in training, was named overnight to contest the thirteenth running of the Selima stakes which will feature the racing program at Pimlico tomorrow.

The Selima, the richest race of the year for juvenile fillies, carries $10,000 in added money but because of its futurity conditions will have a gross value of $26,700 if all ten go to the post.

The traditional Laurel park feature is contested at a mile and one sixteenth.

Muddy Track Likely

While the early odds favored three or four fillies for the major share of the rich purse, prospects were that the track would be muddy and that consequently the race would be wide open.

The track was sloppy today, and rain continued to fall.

Favored in the early odds was the Calumet farm entry of Twilight Tear and Miss Keeneland. This pair trained by Plain Ben Jones turned in an impressive one-two victory in a conditioning race last week.

Twilight Tear, a daughter of Bull Lea, is the more highly regarded of the two, with earnings of $29,360 in four starts, three of which she has won. She will carry 13 pounds, eight more than her stablemate.

High Weight to Whirlabout

The high weight of the allowance event went to A. B. Hancock's Whirlabout, whose most recent stake victory was scored in the Autumn Day stakes at Jamaica last week.

She will face the barrier under 122 pounds.

Second choice to the Warren Wright pair in the early odds was Belair stud's Thread O'Gold, a Menow daughter assigned 115 pounds.

Others named to start were Dr. Georg N. Knapp's Brown Plumage, R. W. McIlvain's Snack Foxcatcher Farm's Galtown, Bomar Stable's Love Pact, Hal Price Headley's Estate and Greentree stable's Sunday Supper.

More about the Racing Game
The racing game, especially in New York, is the biggest cash business most of us know about.

The six months of racing in New York will bring in close to $140,000 of which the state will collect around $16,000,000 in taxes.

New England, Chicago, Pimlico and other tracks won't be so far behind, when you check from day to day against figures from other years. This is all comparative.

Far bigger crowds this year have pushed more money through mutual windows than any past season has ever dreamed was possible.

This has been largely due to the fact that we have some extra twenty billion dollars of loose money in the hands of restless gambling world.

This rush to the tracks has come about with no headliners to attract the crowd appeal.

Such former star attractions as Whirlaway, Alsab, Shut Out and a few others either left the racing scene or else ran badly.

Court Fleet, the outstanding entry of the year, was through back in early summer.

There hasn't been an outstanding two-year-old. Pensive, Lucky Draw, Pukka Gin, Occupied, Rodney Stone, Dance Team, Alorier, on and on, run first or last or in between, with little difference.

But the crowds keep pouring in—and also keep pouring in their money.

The New Era

The bigger a game gets to be—the sharper, keener and more intelligent supervision it needs.

For one example I can give you the difference between New York and Chicago.

In Chicago they have seven stewards or patrol judges covering each race.

These men are all trained and experienced horsemen. They watch every move made from the start of the race to the finish of the stretch. They can't be fooled.

Jumping effortlessly, he took the lead after the field of seven had made two turns of the course, and held it from then on.

Rokeby stable's Caddie made a game bid in the closing flat and just missed catching the leader. Three quarters of a length separated them at the wire.

The winner was ridden by Scott Riles and covered the two and a half miles in 5:18 1-5.

Mrs. Clark's Invader was third, another twelve lengths back, and W. H. Lipscomb's Mercator was fourth.

Sixteen jumpers had been named for the Chevy Chase, but nine of them—including Brother Jones and Rue Dragon, the leading hedgers of the year—were scratched.

Uncle Seaweed was favored at the mutuels and returned $8.50, $5.10 and $3.90 for $2.

Number of Middies On Sick List Has Navy Coach Worried

ANAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 26 (AP)—Cold and injuries suffered by several members of Navy's football squad plus driving rain and a muddy practice field held the Midshipmen to light drills today.

Expressing concern over the number of Middies on the sick list, Capt. John E. Whelchel, Navy's head coach, said he had hopes that at least some of them would be able to go to Cleveland for the Tars' clash with Notre Dame on Saturday.

Refusing to name the sick and injured players, Whelchel said:

"We'll just hope that they recover quickly, and we'll have to take our chances on that."

Whelchel said that plans had been made to take forty-five members of Navy's football varsity to Cleveland.

For one example, the racing game in New York needs more experience.

Behind the Times

It is still my contention that New York, the racing center of the world, is far behind the times.

Those running and controlling racing in the Metropolitan district, I can't understand that the racing game has moved at least a decade beyond their earlier vision.

Most of these have been pleasant and important socialites.

They speak in terms of "improving the breed," which is, of course, a standard joke.

To most of these people, the hundreds of thousands, who bet hundreds of millions, are not worth considering.

I am willing to admit that no one can protect the sucker—those born for the axe.

But these are still the people—plus the horse owners and the trainers—plus the horses—who have lifted racing to its present golden spot.

The new racing game has suddenly leaped beyond the old-fashioned outlook.

For one example, the racing game in New York needs more experience.

Frank McKernan May Be Penn Ace In Army Contest

Point-a-Second Scorer Has Made 21 Points in 15 Seconds

BY CHARLES WELSH

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26 (AP)—Penn has a point-a-second scorer ready for its clash with unbeaten Army, Saturday on Franklin field.

Frank McKernan, Coach George Munger's ace-on-the-bench, has tallied twenty-one points—including the one that beat Dartmouth 7 to 6—in Penn's first five games this season. And his playing record shows only fifteen seconds of action.

Old football injuries that necessitated operations for the removal of cartilage from both knees cost the six-foot-two Philadelphian a chance to play regularly, and caused him to classify him 4-F.

But they did not prevent him from becoming a place-kicking star on a team that may be one of Penn's greatest.

As a result of the operations, McKernan walks with a slight shuffle, and has been forbidden to scrimmage because of the possibility of a disabling injury.

But he gets up off the bench when Penn scores a touchdown, and trots out to kick the extra point.

Yale, Dartmouth, Lakehurst Naval and Columbia he had twenty-eight chances as it was shoved back on its heels at the start and stayed there all afternoon.

Despite the questionable opposition, both Army and Notre Dame showed tremendous offensive power, and at least an adequate defense.

Impressions of Navy

The impressions gained of Navy in its 28 to 14 victory over a dangerous Georgia Tech team last Saturday were these:

1—It has an explosive offensive, with a fine all-around back in Hal Hamberg.

2—It has a powerful first-string line, with the reserves dropping off in strength a little too sharply.

3—Its pass defense left something to be desired.

4—It has developed a scoring punch which has been lacking in recent years, when the Middies were inclined to drive down to around the ten-yard line and then go into a trance, waiting for someone to tell them what to do.

For nearly half of the game—the first and the third quarters—Tech ran the Middies bowlegged, and you got the idea that given equal reserve manpower the Georgians might have written a different ending.

Navy had so many men on the bench it looked like the Atlantic fleet had been called in to help out.

Navy has speed and drive in its backfield. Hamberg is shifty, yet not exceptionally fast. Hills Hume is a stocky, powerful citizen who drives forward with legs churning furiously. He requires a lot of stopping. The real speedboy, Jim Petrie, did not even get into the game, but we understand that as a spot runner he really is something.

Reserves Make Difference

When Army and Navy meet, we have an idea the lines will decide the outcome. Both teams have the backs. The Navy line, at least the firststring line, has proved itself against better opposition than the Army forwards have faced, but Army has done everything it has been asked to do defensively, and when a team does that you can't say it isn't good until it has been tested and found wanting against sterner competition.

We don't think Notre Dame, Army or Navy can be held scoreless, and we look for the Army-Notre Dame game particularly to be a high-scoring affair, although by that time Notre Dame will have lost most of its starters.

LaSalle Cagers Begin Practice

LaSalle high has opened pre-season basketball workouts on the SS Peter and Paul school court with twenty-four candidates practicing under the direction of Bobby Stake, Bill Hunt and Tommy Ford, three stars of last year's city and district championship quint.

Candidates who reported are Charles Steiner and Frank Kelly, seniors; Joe Becker, Frank Hiner, Ken Ritter, Ray Shaffer, Ed Gunning and Paul Stickley, juniors; Bill Brannon, John Carney and Bert Lawlor, sophomores, and Bob O'Rourke, Harry Hart, Jack Stickley, James Boyle, Eugene Frame and Bob Vanderhout, freshmen.

Shaffer, recently discharged from the army after being in the service several months, is the lone 1942-43 first-stringer in the group.

Several other reserves of last winter will join the squad at the end of the football campaign.

Martin Believes Irish Have Edge On Army, Middies

Relative Strength of Teams Can Be Traced to Reserve Strength

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—We have seen the Notre Dame, Army and Navy football teams, and right now if the three of them were coaxed onto the same field for a battle royal we aren't sure which would come under its own power.

That is, they are all very, very good, but if someone backed us into a corner and threatened us if we didn't make a choice we'd rank them just as they are ranked in the current Associated Press poll, namely: 1-Notre Dame, 2-Army, 3-Navy.

We had our opinions pretty well formed concerning Notre Dame and Army before last Saturday. We had seen Notre Dame win under wraps from Pittsburgh's Panther Cubs, and Army roll at will over a somewhat better Colgate team which never got as far as its insteps as it was shoved back on its heels at the start and stayed there all afternoon.

Despite the questionable opposition, both Army and Notre Dame will have Creighton Miller and a couple of dozen other guys who can tote or throw the ball. Army has Glenn Davis as a starter, and some 1942 regulars who are just subs, which just goes to show you.

Simmered down, we think the relative strength of the teams can be traced to the strength of the reserves, particularly in the line, and we think that Notre Dame has better and deeper line reserves than Army, and that Army holds the same advantage over Navy. The drop in Navy's effectiveness when the second team was in there was disconcertingly noticeable.

That bidding was uniform at three tables of a duplicate tournament. At each of them the diamond 9 was led to the J and another diamond honor scored. In one case East then switched to the club 8. The declarer played low and the K won. But that was all for the defenders. The club 10 was returned and there was nothing to the hand after that. Two spade tricks made possible a discard of South's last diamond, and the heart K was trapped by the Q lead.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Oct. 26 (AP)—Workers in the city treasurer's office may be forced to collect coins as a hobby if many soldiers home from overseas follow the example of one who found himself a little short of conventional coin.

This soldier deposited a nickel-sized piece of Egyptian money in a parking meter—and got a nickel's worth of parking time.

That's not the first strange token city treasury employees have emptied from the parking meters. Once there was even a large shiny coin bearing a likeness of Gary Cooper and the slogan "Honor Bright."

Waffles for Dessert

Waffles make a grand dessert, calling for little sugar, when they are served hot, spread with a cheese-fruit mixture. Mix together equal portions of fresh or canned berries, cherries or apricots with white cream cheese. Sweeten lightly with sugar or strained honey.

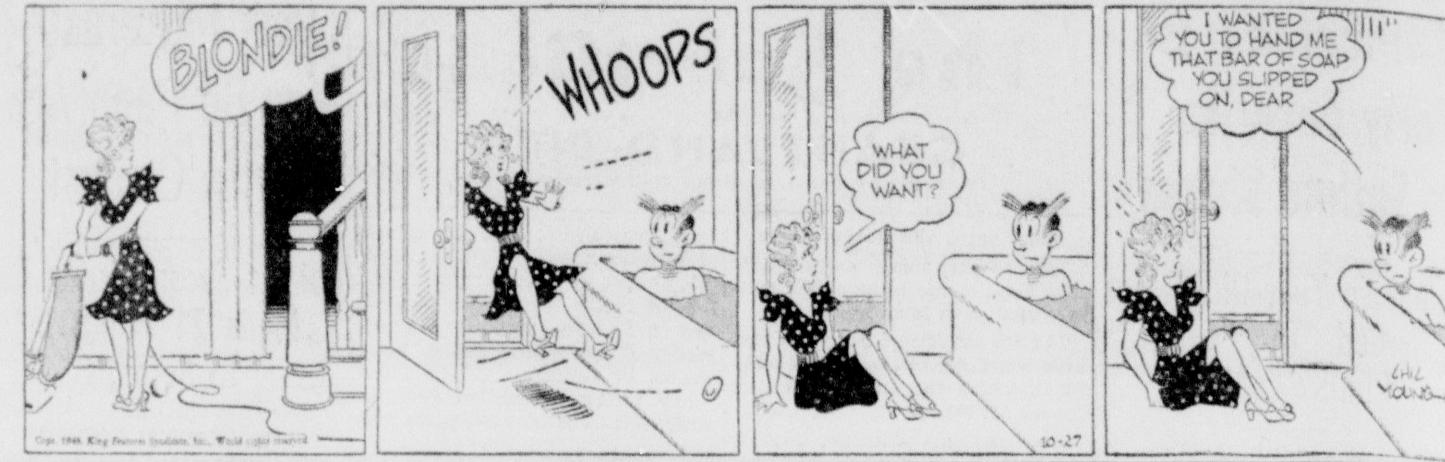

Cottage Meat Pie

For a change make cottage meat pie in this topsy turvy way: Mix up leftover vegetables, add any sauce or gravy, pour into buttered shallow baking dish and cover with cubed, sliced or chopped meat, moistened slightly with gravy or milk. Bake until hot.

The word brandy is derived from the Dutch word brandewijn, meaning burnt wine.

200 Will Attend Navy Day Dinner At YMCA Tonight

Lt. Commander Johnson To Speak; Service Men Will Be Guests

Reservations have been made for 200 guests for the Navy day dinner and rally, which will be staged this evening in the gymnasium of the Central Y. M. C. A., it was announced last evening by John K. Snyder, general chairman of the program being held under the auspices of civic fraternal and veterans' organizations.

Snyder said that reservations for the dinner have been closed because the Y. M. C. A. will be unable to serve more than the 200 guests who already have purchased tickets for the affair.

Following the dinner, scheduled to start at 6:30 o'clock, there will be a speaking and musical program.

Navy Man To Speak

The guest speaker will be Lt. Commander Lloyd M. Johnson, U.S. N. R., officer-in-charge of the Fire Fighters School, Norfolk, Va.

Commander Johnson recently received the Navy and Marine Medal for heroic conduct as officer-in-charge of fire fighting operations when two vessels collided and burst into flames.

Commander Johnson and his men boarded the tanker in the face of burning gases and explosions and brought the fire under control.

Snyder, a past president of the Lions club and a lieutenant in Company No. 845, LaVale, of the Maryland Minute Men, will act as master of ceremonies.

Music will be provided by the Fort Hill high school orchestra of twenty members under the direction of Miss Pearl Garbrick and the combined quartets of the Kiwanis and Lions club under the direction of A. Florian Wilson and Joseph K. Trenton.

Servicemen have been invited as guests of the sponsoring organizations and approximately forty members of the newly formed Navy Mothers Club of America will attend as will members of the Exchange club, and Ridgeley, W. Va., Lions club.

Public Is Invited

The public is invited to hear the speaking program following the dinner and those who attend will be admitted free to the balcony at 7:30 p.m.

Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose, has contributed toward the affair by providing funds for decorating the gymnasium. John J. Kuffner has charge of decorations.

Merchants throughout the city will mark Navy day by displaying American flags from curbstones masts. Patriotic colors also will be displayed at city hall and other public buildings.

Fort Cumberland Post, In Quest of Citation, Seeks 340 More Members

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, must sign up 340 members by Armistice day, November 11, to equal last year's total membership of 685, it was disclosed last evening at the regular meeting of the post.

Samuel A. Graham, membership chairman, reported 346 memberships as of last evening and said that the post will receive a special citation from national headquarters provided it secures 100 per cent in renewals by Armistice day. Winners of war bonds and stamps for those signing the greatest number of members will be determined by the figures on that evening.

A special appeal was made to all Legionnaires to participate in the Armistice day parade, which will be followed by a dance at 9 p.m. at the Legion home.

The Rev. J. Fred Zimmerman gave a report on the American Legion memorial service which will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday, November 7, in the Maryland theater.

JUDGE OF JUVENILE COURT INDICTS HOMES FOR DELINQUENCY

Inadequate home conditions were cited as responsible for most of the delinquency cases brought to trial in the juvenile court of Allegany county during the six months ending June 30, according to a report released yesterday by Judge Edward B. Menefee, juvenile court magistrate.

Divided into two classes, juvenile delinquents and adults whose offenses against society affect juvenile welfare, the cases numbered 243, the report reveals.

A total of 105 juvenile delinquents were brought into court the first half of the year. Judge Menefee's report shows. Their offenses were enumerated as follows: seventy-five for delinquency charges; twenty-five for non-school absence; two for assault, and one for an unclassified charge.

Adult offenders were divided into fifty-six for non-support of minor children; sixty-seven for contributing to the delinquency of minors and five for unclassified charges.

The seventy-seven cases of juvenile delinquency, Judge Menefee's report shows, were made up largely of larceny, incorrigibility and sex delinquents.

Total court collections during the six-months period amounted to $11,144.95. Of this amount $238 were fines and $10,817.95 was collected for support of dependents.

FCC Approves Sale Of WTBO's Stock To Mrs. Becker

Change in Frequency and Full Time on Air Given Local Station

Authorization of the transfer of control of the Associated Broadcasting System, licensee of radio station WTBO, of this city, from E. Pamphilon to Mrs. Aurelia S. Becker, was announced yesterday by the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C.

The transaction involves the sale to Mrs. Becker of fifty additional shares of capital stock for a consideration of $10,480, according to the FCC. Mrs. Becker now owns seventy per cent of the stock while the remaining thirty per cent is held by Charles Z. Heskett, local attorney and city solicitor.

At the same time, the commission authorized the station to change frequency from 820 to 1450 kilocycles and hours of operation from limited to unlimited time.

Mrs. Becker last evening said that the frequency of the local station will be changed to 1,450 kilocycles December 1 and that programs will be broadcast daily for eighteen hours, starting at 6 a.m. and concluding at 12 o'clock midnight.

Association with one of the national networks will be included in the new set-up, Mrs. Becker stated.

Constitution Is Revised by State Teachers' Group

Advisory Council of 53 Is Established; Three Other Changes Made

Four important changes were effected as a result of a revision of the constitution of the Maryland State Teachers Association at the annual meeting of the organization last Friday and Saturday at Baltimore Polytechnic Institute, according to Harold C. Wickard, president of the Teachers Association of Allegany county.

The changes include:

1. Establishment of an advisory council of fifty-three members, which will include two delegates from each association in the twenty-three counties and Baltimore city and the five state association officers.

2. Increasing the annual dues of individual state members from $1 to $3.

3. Selection of one delegate for each thirty-one paid-up members instead of determining the number of delegates by the number of teaching positions.

4. Authorizing the incoming president to appoint committees for the current year instead of having the outgoing president make such appointments.

Visits also were made to three other county towns, Westport, Midland and Barton, where supplies were picked up and brought to Cumberland to be made into hospital articles.

Council Meets December 4

The first meeting of the new advisory council is scheduled for Saturday, December 4, and will be held in Baltimore, Wickard said. It is proposed that this council meet at least three times before the next annual meeting and more often if the president deems it necessary. The president of each association will automatically become a member of the council.

Allegany county's association will elect its other delegate at a meeting to be held Saturday, November 13, in Allegany high school.

Wickard said that a test vote on the appointment of a full time executive secretary was taken at the Baltimore meeting but Baltimore City, Baltimore county and Allegany county did not participate because they desired more time to study the proposal. He expressed the opinion, however, that the proposal will carry at the December meeting of the council.

Appointment of the advisory council was praised by Wickard because he said it will work toward the betterment of the smaller counties.

Officers Are Elected

Officers elected for the year include:

Thomas W. Pye, principal of Bethesda Chevy Chase high school, president; Miss Mary Adams, assistant superintendent of schools of Baltimore city, first vice-president; John Fisher, personnel director of Baltimore city schools, second vice-president; and Charles W. Sylvester, director of vocational education, Baltimore city, treasurer.

Walter H. Davis, principal of Havre de Grace high school, was re-elected secretary, and will hold office until a new full time executive secretary is appointed.

Delegates from Allegany county in addition to Wickard, were Orbie B. Boughton, Lewyn C. Davis, Paul Foothen, Foy A. Curry, the Misses Mary Meyers, Nan Livingstone, Margaret Launder, Mary Manley, Nan Jeffries and Charles L. Kopp, ex-officio delegate.

Former Oldtown Man Injured in Explosion

Albert Chaney Fraze, Wilmerding, Pa., who suffered severe burns of the face and hands in an electrical explosion October 16, is reported to be much improved, according to word received by his brother, William L. Fraze, local WPA administrator.

Total court collections during the six-months period amounted to $11,144.95. Of this amount $238 were fines and $10,817.95 was collected for support of dependents.

Red Cross Collects Hospital Articles

Lonaconing Group Turns Out Many Items; Sup- plies Are Gathered

Numerous articles for hospital use of servicemen were collected in Lonaconing yesterday by Mrs. Lee W. Witherspoon, chairman of Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross. Mrs. Jim McQuown, production chairman, and Mrs. Robert G. Doty, of the motor corps.

Among the articles collected at Lonaconing were stretcher pads, hospital shoes, cushions for wheel chairs, lap covers and several knitted articles, and Mrs. McQuown said she was very much pleased with the number of items turned out by the Lonaconing group in such a short time. They have been working about a month, she said, under the direction of Miss Eleanor Sloan, branch chapter chairman, and Miss Catherine Stevenson, sewing chairman.

Visits also were made to three other county towns, Westport, Midland and Barton, where supplies were picked up and brought to Cumberland to be made into hospital articles.

With approximately an inch and a half of rain falling here Monday and Tuesday, the rainfall total for the month was boosted to 3.78 inches, highest total since 4.5 inches was measured in May.

The total rainfall to date this year is 22.20 inches compared to the normal of 30.72 for the first ten months. Last year, the first ten months brought 39.45 inches.

Rain this month apparently has relieved the drought, not only in this section but in other parts of the state. Yesterday was the first general soaking rain since early July and in some sections precipitation ranged up to nearly four inches.

Three Births Reported

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Robinson, 826 Shriver avenue, announce the birth of a son last evening in Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gall, Ridgeley, W. Va., announce the birth of a daughter at noon yesterday in Allegany hospital.

Charge Is Dismissed

Magistrate Frank A. Perdue yesterday dismissed a charge of assault against Walter Herath, 609 Columbia street, after the prosecuting witness, Virginia Dolan, refused to appear at the hearing in trial magistrate's court.

Salamanders Weighing 20 Tons Were Once "Dumped Over the Bank"

You may not know it just as thousands of other Cumberlanders are unaware of it, but there's an "independent fortune" in scrap metal buried on the old N. and G. Taylor tin mill property, according to a former employee who worked there for years.

He told his story yesterday for the absolute truth on condition his name wouldn't be connected with it and then casually pointed out that only two people know where the scrap is buried among bricks and ashes and other mill refuse.

There's more than a million and a half pounds of tin, steel and lead droplets under the ground there, he said, explaining that a salamander is a big lump of steel. "When the heat was too cold to tem or pour it," he related, "then it had to be dumped."

Worth $170,000

Over a period of four or five years, he estimated, an average of 30,000 pounds of scrap a month was dumped on the property. That's more than a million and a half tons which he said is $170,000 worth of scrap. That's clear money after all expenses are paid," he emphasized.

The scrap is located in five different places on the property the man said, emphasizing again that you've got to know your business to get it."

Must Know Job

"Anybody looking for the tin droplets and lead scuff there has to know his business or he'll throw it away," the former tin mill employee said, intimating that recovering the scrap isn't a job for a layman.

Enthusiast in his subject, the man readily revealed that the steel was "dumped over the bank" in earlier days because machinery available wasn't strong enough to handle the big pieces.

"Why, lots of salamanders weighing twenty to twenty-seven tons
